

B.A. Psychology (Pass Course)

Program Specific Outcomes

- To learn the basic principles of psychology
- To develop awareness about various theoretical perspectives
- To provide hands on experience of conducting practical
- To provide opportunities for development of psychological skills
- To help gain insights about the functioning of mind and body
- To familiarize students with the basic processes of research
- To impart knowledge about quantitative analysis of variables

Course Outcomes-Pass Course

Department-Psychology

1ST YEAR

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
1.	BAPSYCA101 (TH)	Foundation of Psychology	DSC-1A	To build the foundation of psychology by introducing the principles of perception, learning, determinants of personality and intelligence.
2.	BAPSYCA102 (TH/PR)	Introduction to Social Psychology	DSC-1B	To educate students about the significance of social psychology and its various concepts such as attitudes, interpersonal attraction and social influence.

2ND YEAR

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
3.	BAPSYCA203 (TH/PR)	Psychopathology	DSC-1C	To introduce the criteria of abnormality, clinical picture of anxiety disorders, mood disorders, schizophrenia and various theoretical perspectives for the treatment of clinical disorders
4.	BAPSYCA204 (TH)	Statistical Methods	DSC-1D	To equip students with quantitative/qualitative techniques of data interpretation and graphical representation
5.	BAPSYCA205 (TH)	Sociopathic Disorders	SEC-1	To make students aware of anti-social personalities, related factors, clinical picture and socio-psychological interventions.
6.	BAPSYCA206 (TH)	Psychology of Collective Behaviour	SEC-2	To develop understanding related to collective behaviour such as crowd behaviour, mob behaviour, types of audience and pro-social behaviour
7.	BAPSYCHA105 (TH)	Foundation of Psychology	GEC-1	To build the foundation of psychology by introducing the principles of perception, learning, determinants of personality and intelligence
8.	BAPSYCHA106 (TH/PR)	Introduction to Social Psychology	GEC-2	To educate students about the significance of social psychology and its various concepts such as attitude, interpersonal attraction and social influence

VTH SEMESTER

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
9.	BAPSYC508 (TH/PR)	Counseling Psychology	DSE-1Ab/2Ba	To foster understanding of the counseling process, Psychodynamic and Behavioral approaches and their applications to family school and career
10.	BAPSYC507 (TH)	Managing Stress	SEC-3	Developing an understanding of stress related disorders and impact of stress on health. Treatment through application of various approaches is emphasized.
11.	BAPSYC509 (TH)	Psychology for Living	GE-1	Learning the relevance of psychology, mind-body relationship, lifestyle interventions, growth and actualizing self and building personal well-being.

VITH SEMESTER

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
12.	BAPYC611 (TH/PR)	Health and Well Being	DSE-1Aa/2Bb	To develop understanding related to health, well-being, coping with stress and health enhancing behaviors.
13.	BAPSYC610 (TH)	Application of Social Psychology	SEC-4	Practising the application of social psychology in controlling aggression, reducing prejudices, promoting good health and effectiveness at work.
14.	BAPSYC612 (TH)	Psychology of Gender	GE-2	To learn to conceptualize gender identity through psychoanalytic and social learning theory in order to reduce gender differences

B.A. Psychology Honors
Program Specific Outcomes

- To learn the advanced principles of psychology
- To inculcate advanced research awareness
- To expose students about conducting field work for psycho-social sensitization
- To impart practical knowledge of psychological principles through lab work
- To develop interpersonal, communication and team work skills through group seminars
- To understand the interactive effect of multiple variables by advanced quantitative techniques
- To encourage students for participating in workshops, seminars as well as doing internships in related fields of psychology

Course Outcomes-Psychology Honors

Department-Psychology

1ST YEAR

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
1.	BAPSYCHA101 (TH/PR)	Introduction to Psychology	DSC-1	To help to make the base in the subject by introducing students to the various concepts of experimental psychology.
2.	BAPSYCHA102 (TH)	Psychology of Individual Differences	DSC-2	To foster awareness about enhancing intrinsic and extrinsic motivation, cognitive potentials such as self-regulation and self-enhancement.
3.	BAPSYCHA103 (TH)	Psychological Research	DSC-3	To understand quantitative and qualitative orientations towards research through experimental and quasi-experimental methods.
4.	BAPSYCHA104 (TH)	Introduction to Social Psychology	DSC-4	The course explains the understanding and evaluation of the social world through social interaction and influence.
5.	BAPSYCHA105 (TH)	Foundation of Psychology	GE-1	To build the foundation of psychology by introducing the principles of perception, learning, determinants of personality and intelligence

6.	BAPSYCHA106 (TH/PR)	Introduction to Social Psychology	GE-2	To educate students about the significance of social psychology and its various concepts such as attitudes, interpersonal attraction and social influence

2nd YEAR

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
7.	BAPSYCHA207 (TH)	Biopsychology	DSC-5	To educate students about the influence on CNS and PNS on human behaviour
8.	BAPSYCHA208 (TH)	Statistical Methods for Psychological Research-1	DSC-6	To expose students to various data interpretation and graphical representation methods of psychological research
9.	BAPSYCHA209 (TH)	Developmental Psychology	DSC-7	To learn the concepts, domains and socio-cultural factors of human development
10.	BAPSYCHA210 (TH/PR)	Understanding Psychological Disorders	DSC-8	To understand various psychological disorders through latest editions of DSM and ICD
11.	BAPSYCHA211 (TH)	Applied Social Psychology	DSC-9	The course explains the application of social psychological principles in legal system, diverse populations and various processes of intervention
12.	BAPSYCHA212 (TH)	Counseling Psychology	DSC-10	To make students aware of counseling as a profession
13.	BAPSYCHA213 (TH)	Stress Management	SEC-1	To impart the knowledge of managing stress through problem focused and emotion focused approaches and various methods of coping
14.	BAPSYCHA214 (TH)	Effective Decision Making	SEC-2	The course explains the importance of making good decisions related to career, managing interpersonal relationships, negotiating interpersonal conflicts and developing skills required for effective decision making
15.	BAPSYCHA215 (TH/PR)	Psychopathology	GE-3	To introduce the criteria of abnormality, clinical picture of anxiety disorders, mood disorders, schizophrenia and various theoretical perspectives for the treatment of clinical disorders.

16.	BAPSYCHA216 (TH)	Statistical Methods	GE-4	To equip students with quantitative/qualitative techniques of data interpretation and graphical representation.

VTH SEMESTER

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
17.	BAPSYC517 (TH)	Understanding Psychological Disorders	DSC-11	The course explains the understanding of developmental disorders, substance related disorders and eating disorders.
18.	BAPSYC518 (TH/PR)	Organizational Behaviour	DSC-12	To impart knowledge related to contemporary trends, challenges and dynamics of organizational behaviour in the Indian setup.
19.	BAPSYC519 (TH/PR)	Positive Psychology	DSC-1	To introduce Eastern-Western perspectives on positive psychology which help students in building positive emotional and cognitive states.
20.	BAPSYC520 (TH/PR)	Health Psychology	DSC-2	To promote health management through health enhancing and protective behaviors by removing barriers to health.

VITH SEMESTER

Sr. No.	Subject Code	Subject Name	Subject Category (DCS, DSE, GEC,SEC,AECC)	Course Outcome
21.	BAPSYC621 (TH)	Understanding and Dealing with Psychological Disorders	DSC-13	To familiarize students with the symptomatology and treatment of various psychological disorders.
22.	BAPSYC622 (TH/PR)	Counseling Psychology	DSC-14	To inculcate skills of effective counseling by applying psychoanalytic, humanistic and CBT techniques.
23.	BAPSYC623 (TH/PR)	Community Psychology	DSE-3	To understand the working of different communities through various models and core values of empowerment and collaboration.
24.	BAPSYC624	Project	DSE-4	To learn to do projects on psycho- social relevance such as stress, anxiety, collective behaviour, gender identity and community health.
